The Mayor's Marshal, Mr. Engelhard, issued 397 city licenses last week, and received $1,865 75 in fees.

Judgment was yesterday entered against the New-York and Long Island Railroad Company in favor of Charles F. Treibar, on a promissory note.

The Street-Cleaning Department at 4 o'clock yesterday morning sent three flat scows, loaded with garbage, to dump their loads at sea. These are the first scows sent out since the dumping was stopped at Riker's Island.

The steamer Miranda, with the party of scientists on board who are going to "size up" the ethnology, ornithology and entomology of Greenland and Labrador, sailed yesterday from Pier No. 6, North River, at 5:30 p. m. Besides the scientists, there were on board the steamer several spongers who go to shoot polar bears and other Arctic game.

When the steamer Mary Powell reached West Twenty-second-st., yesterday morning, it was found that her main shaft was cracked. All her passengers were landed at the Twenty-second-st. pier, instead of Dusseldorf-st., and the steamer was taken over to Fletcher's Iron Works, at Hoboken, to be repaired.

WEAVING A WEB ABOUT DOUGHERTY.

THREE MEN FOUND WITH WHOM HE DRANK NEAR THE HOUSE A SHORT TIME RE-

FORE MEYERS WAS MURDERED.

Inspector McLaughlin and Captain Pickett, of the East Eighty-eighth-st. station, examined several witnesses at Police Headquarters yesterday morning in connection with the murder of Edward Meyers, the race-track messenger, who was called out of his home, at No. 1,560 Avenue A, just after midnight Thursday and shot dead. George Dougherty, the young man who is suspected of being the murderer and who gave himself up to Superintendent Byrnes, was held for examination on Monday at the Harlem Police Court. He is defended by Howe & Hammel.

Dougherty says he can prove an alibi. Captain Pickett, however, said yesterday that he had found three men in whose company Dougherty was on the night of the shooting, drinking in O'Rourke's barroom, Avenue A and Seventy-ninth-st., a few doors from where the murder was committed.

Captain Pickett witness and James Peterson, of No. 1,560 Avenue A, O'Rourke's barroom, the house keeper, and a man named Michaels. They were about O'Rourke's when Dougherty came along and inquired what had happened to Meyers before Meyers was seen near the party with another. Another witness was George Scroggy, who lives in the same house where Meyers lived. He told him that he was taking with Peterson and Michaels in front of Meyers' house, probably before midnight on Thursday, when Dougherty came along and inquired if Edward Meyers lived there. Scroggy told him he did, but that he had not got home yet. Dougherty asked what was the matter with Meyers. Scroggy said he was uncertain and showed him where Meyers lived. When they came down again all hands went to O'Rourke's place, had something to drink.

Captain Pickett believes this evidence to be convincing of Dougherty's guilt, but his men are still working on the case.
